School Board at Little Rock Asks for More Time

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Little Rock school board asked U. S. District court late Thursday to define the meaning of "deliberate speed" and to stay its order for gradual integration of the city schools.

The petition was filed late Thursday, signed by all members of the board and by School Superintendent Virgil T. Blossom. It came 24 hours after a committee of 25 Little Rock citizens, organized at the height of the integration impasse at Central High last fall, had recommended federal court action.

St. Grady Miller, clerk of the federal district court, said it was "impossible to speculate" when a hearing might come up. He telephoned Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies at Fargo, N. D., who had ordered the school board to proceed "forthwith" in its gradual integration plan last September.

Miller said Judge Davies refused comment until he had conferred with Judge Archibald Gardner of Port Huron, S. D., chief judge of the eighth judicial circuit.

Certain Adults
A small group, with the encouragement of certain adults, has absorbed the prevailing spirit of defiance and has almost daily created incidents which make it exceedingly difficult for teachers to teach and for pupils to learn," the petition said.

"The existing pupil unrest, teacher unrest, and parent unrest, likewise make it difficult for the district to maintain a satisfactory education program," the petition said.

Air Armada Searches for Missing Plane

LONDON (UP)—A 30-plane air armada from three continents searched the stormy Atlantic today for a U. S. Navy plane—a flying radar station—missing on a regular patrol with 23 and perhaps 25 men aboard.

The four-engine Super Constellation, fitted with long-range radar equipment, apparently crashed or ditched on a round-trip patrol between Argentina, Newfoundland, and the Azores Thursday.

The two points are 1,200 miles apart and searchers said there was no hint where the plane might have gone down.

Weathermen of the British Air Ministry said conditions were suitable for ditching the big plane only within a 300-mile radius of the Azores. Outside that area the storms had beset the plane's route with rough seas, high winds and temperatures at or below freezing.

But those who stayed for the final contest did see a better one, if that was possible, in the first contest highly favored England barely bested a gallant DeWitt team in an overtime. . . your heart went out to the smaller DeWitt ladies, yet you couldn't help but admire the poise which England showed to win in the overtime. . . Drew Central ousted Waldron handily in the second contest. . . then came the final game of the night. . . and perhaps Monette is the team of destiny, certainly lady luck was with them last night against Des Arc. . . the regular game ended in a tie at a Des Arc field goal which would have meant the game was a second tie late. . . in the overtime Des Arc again tossed in a field goal which would have won but it too was a second after the

U. S. Soon to Test Another Vanguard

WASHINGTON (UP)—Informed sources said today the United States hopes to test another Vanguard satellite launcher at Cape Canaveral, Fla., next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Presumably the three-stage rocket will carry in its nose one of the 6-inch, radio-equipped sphere specially designed for the Vanguard test program.

Under the original plans, project Vanguard did not plan to attempt a full-scale satellite launching until March. No change in those plans has been indicated.

The fully assembled three-stage launcher has yet to make a successful test flight. In the first test Dec. 6 it burned on the launching pad. In the second, Feb. 5, the rocket came apart high in the air and was exploded by a signal from the ground.

If the new test is successful, there is a small chance that the 6-inch sphere will go into orbit as a tiny satellite.

Southern State Plans Reception

MAGNOLIA — Southern State College will honor High School Seniors of Hempstead County Sunday afternoon, March 2, with a reception to be held at the Diamond Club Room in the Diamond Cafe from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Invitations have been sent to high school seniors, their parents, teachers and school officials at Hope, Blewins, Guernsey, Saratoga and Spring Hill. Approximately 25 members of the college faculty, including president, deans, division chairmen, department heads and staff will be present.

Guests will be served refreshments and will see the college through color slides, promotional literature and the Southern State "picture wheel" — a miniature Ferris wheel displaying 65 photographs of campus activities.

Purpose of the reception is to acquaint students, parents and teachers with facilities offered by Southern State College. Dr. Dolph Camp, president of the college, points out, "This is not an attempt to enroll every Hempstead county student in Southern State; we know that some of them will attend other colleges and some probably will not attend college at all." He said, "This is just a chance for us to become acquainted."

Students from Hempstead County who are presently enrolled in Southern State will also be in attendance at the reception.

Agri Secretary Flatly Refuses Suggestion

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Farm belt Republicans told Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson in so many words today that he should resign for the good of the party, but Benson flatly refused.

The new move to get Benson out of government was made by two midwestern Republicans on behalf of a group of GOP farm state congressmen who feel Benson's departure would help the party hang on to some of its seats in the November elections.

The two spokesmen—Rep. A. L. Miller (Neb.) and William J. Judd (Minn.)—were closed with Benson for 40 minutes in his own office, downtown, Miller said, they did not ask him directly to resign but left little doubt that he should.

They indicated that if Benson did not quit, they would take their plea for Benson's ouster to the White House.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican farm belt congressmen embarked today on a new effort to get Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson to resign.

GOP sources said a sizable group of midwestern lawmakers, spurred by results of Tuesday's special election in Minnesota, has decided to send a secret emissary to Benson to ask him to figure a graceful way to bow out.

In the Minnesota contest Democratic Eugene Foley, apparently came within 700 votes of defeating Republican Alfred Quile in a district which has elected GOP congressmen for more than 60 years. After their recent election, however, out previously underdog Democrats into state and national offices in several other farm belt states.

Some Midwest Republicans in Congress have already opposed Benson's farm policies. The latest close shave has pushed some of those who haven't fought him into a drive to get him out of the picture for the sake of the party's congressional candidates.

The move to approach Benson with a request that he step down was reportedly discussed Thursday at a special meeting of 25 GOP farm state legislators with Republican National Chairman Mende ALCORN and House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr.

The Senate Republican Campaign Committee, scheduled a closed-door meeting which might take up a controversial $100,000 fund raised by Texas oil men. The committee was reported badly split over whether or not the mon.

should be accepted. Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House legislative oversight subcommittee disclosed that FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack has agreed to give the group his financial records.

Harris said Mack had told him the subcommittee, investigating charges of misconduct in regulatory agencies, was "welcome" to examine his personal finances. The chairman said Mack will be asked to bring the papers along when he appears next Monday or Tuesday.

Other congressional news: Postal: The Senate Post Office Committee produced a surprise by approving a 750 million dollar rate increase that included a boost to five cents for out-of-town postage. The five-cent stamp would be retained for three years. Other postal rates also would be increased.

Soil bank: An additional 175 million dollars was recommended by the Appropriations Committee for the soil bank program. It will take care of applications not covered by the 500 million dollars voted last year for the program.

Defense: Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) said "vast and complex" problems remain to be solved if the United States is to survive and recover from a nuclear attack. But there also has been considerable progress toward stockpiling for conventional emergency needs.

Subversion: The Communist cause is being furthered, Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said, by "subverted" religious groups sent to the United States by Soviet churches. He said testimony from refugee pastors show-been filed, Blossom met newsmen at his office. He refused to comment on questions whether the Negro students at Central would be removed if the petition should be granted.

"We're sorta like the boy scouts, but I'm not going to answer the question," Blossom told newsmen. Mrs. L. C. Bales, president of the Arkansas chapter of the Na-ed churches behind the Iron Curtain, "have been transformed into instruments to promote the spread of communism."

Education: Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) told the Senate the Eisenhower administration had made a "mockery" of its promises for education by requesting a "pigny" budget.

Beck to Appeal

national Association for the Advancement of Colored People, CHU-Cadillac.

The prosecuting attorney recommended that the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles set the elder Beck's minimum sentence at three years.

Charles S. Burdell, Beck's defense attorney, said the conviction will be appealed to the State Supreme Court "as soon as possible."

Judge George H. Revelle passed sentence on Beck about an hour after Dave Beck Jr. was placed on probation for three years, also for embezzling union funds. He was convicted of pocketing $4,650 received from the sale of two Teamster-owned Cadillacs.

The younger Beck received a deferred sentence with a three-year probation and was fined $2,000 and ordered to return the $4,650 he was convicted of embezzling. Burdell said both convictions jeized the board's action. She said it was a shock to all "decent, thinking people" and, to the parents of the Negro children.

Faith In Country

"We have faith in our country, we have faith in the courts, and we believe this new attempt to deny Negro children... equal educational opportunities will fail as other attempts have failed," she said.

The petition hit indirectly at Gov. Orval E. Faubus. It cited his calling the National Guard to prevent Negroes from enrolling at the high school last fall.

"The effect... was to harden the core of opposition... and cause many persons... to believe there was some power in the state which when exerted, could nullify the federal law and permit disobedience of the decree of this court," the petition said.

"From that date, hostility... was increased and criticism of officials of the district has become more bitter and unrestrained," it said.

Difficult Position

"The district now finds itself in a most difficult position in providing satisfactory education for its pupils. It has the responsibility of operating under the phase plan of integration directed by this court, and yet has no power to enforce the provisions of the plan."

"The federal government, except for having placed troops around the school grounds, apparently is powerless to enforce compliance with this court's order... and suppress interference... now being encountered by the district."

"The judicial branch... of the federal government has not aided the district by preventing or attempting to prevent interference with the plan which the officials of the district... are endeavoring to apply."

No Effort

"There has been no effort on the part of the Congress... to strengthen old, or provide new, judicial procedures which will guarantee enforcement of the Civil Rights of the Negro minority."

"The district... is left standing alone, the victim of extraordinary opposition on the part of the state government and apathy on the part of the federal government."

"The principle of integration runs counter to the ingrained attitudes of many of the residents of the district."

The petition asked that the plan of integration be "realistically considered in the light of existing conditions and that... the beginning date of integration be postponed until such time as the concept of 'all deliberate speed' can be clearly defined."

Quality of Education

It asked that the start of integration be delayed until effective legal procedures can be obtained which will enable the district to integrate without impairment of the quality of education it is capable of providing.

Would Spend Entire Life in Space Work

NEW YORK (UP)—Airman Donald G. Farrell, 23, the Air Force's "moon traveler," said today he hopes to spend his life in space work.

The young airman who spent last week in a simulated space rocket at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, said he hopes to enter college this fall to study aeronautical engineering and then "go back and work in the same field of Air Force projects that I am presently in."

A real flight to the moon, he believes, "can be done, and I would like to do it."

Farrell arrived shortly after midnight for two weeks "temporary duty," making radio, television and other appearances here and attending an Air Force Assn. jet age conference in Washington.

At the head of his personal agenda: "I'm just going to visit the folks."

Joann Burden, the girl friend he confessed he hadn't even had time to think about last Friday, was flown from her Niagara Falls, N. Y., home for a surprise reunion with Farrell on a television show.

Farrell, unaware that she was in the city ahead of him, told newsmen on his arrival that he hoped to get upstate to see her while he was here.

will be appealed to the State Supreme Court "and even higher if necessary."

Beck Sr. is scheduled to go on trial in federal court at Tacoma, Wash., May 5 on charges of evading federal income taxes.

DOROTHY DIX

Friend Offers Vacation
On New "Triangle" Plan

Dear Dorothy Dix: Two years ago my best girl friend moved down south. She's invited us to spend a week with her this summer, and I have been looking forward to the trip. Recently I learned my husband has been corresponding with her, receiving letters at the office. What shall I do? Tell him I know, or pretend ignorance and go ahead with the trip?

ELsie K.
Dear Elsie: This is the sort of romantic interlude that can be scotched easily. Tell your husband you know, and in your next letter to the girl friend, let her know, but pass it off with a bright comment. Don't make a major tragedy of it. And spend your vacation in the north.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm afraid I'm ruining an otherwise happy marriage with my unreasonable jealousy. Can you suggest a cure?

MIRIAM
Dear Miriam: First, rationalize the situation and find out if you have any cause for jealousy. If you discover that your inimitable emotion is founded on suspicion, you can deal with it yourself by being a big girl. A wife has to trust her husband. She can't be with him every minute, or read his every thought. Whether he's loyal or not is a matter of character, not espionage. If your husband is a workman, he undoubtedly comes in contact with women; you can't make a hermit out of him. The only real cure is a big dose of common sense, which must replace a vivid imagination. You're jealous because of the things you think, and imagine. If you continue to insult a faithful husband by your continued suspicions and accusations, you'll bring about the exact catastrophe you dread. You will drive him inevitably into the arms of a more sympathetic and understanding female. Get wise to yourself now, sister, before it's too late.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a girl of 22 with a very unsympathetic mother. She won't let me stay out after 9 p. m. If I do come in late I have to stay in the following night.

BOBBY
Dear Bobby: Nine o'clock is late enough for a 12 year old to stay out. In fact, I don't think mother should let you out every night. So, far from agreeing that she's unsympathetic, I think she's too easy.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Roy wants to marry me but he has a terrible habit of lying, so I don't know whether to believe him or not. He hasn't been to see me now for a month. I hear he's been seeing another girl. I won't chase after him.

DELLA T.
Dear Della: Must a spunk come from outer space and hit you to make some sense enter your pretty little head? Roy hasn't been the least bit sincere so pack your hopes away in moth balls. Bravo to you, though, for not chasing him. You'd only add humiliation to your disappointment.

Defending Champs Are Challenged

ARMON BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Defending champion Barbara Nor-mack Porter and medalist Mrs. Phillip Cudone, two married women, were challenged by bachelor girls in the semifinals of the South Atlantic Women's Amateur golf tournament today.

Mrs. Porter, from Sacramento, Calif., played veteran Marge Burns, Greenboro, N. C., and

Cage Play Around Arkansas

By UNITED PRESS

Drew Central and Monette advanced to the semi-finals in the Class A girls basketball tournament at Hope Thursday night and Greenbrier and Mountain View entered the same charmed circle in Class B at Greenbrier.

In their quarterfinal game, the last played at Hope Thursday night, Monette needed two overtime periods to take out a dogged Des Arc team.

As the regular playing time ended, the score was locked 45-45. In the first overtime period, Othodene Rollins of Des Arc looped in a couple of free tosses, but Pat Steel provided the stalemate by driving in for a two-pointer for Monette.

In the second extra period, the Rollins girl was awarded two free throws. She missed the first, dropped in the second, sending Des Arc out front 48-47. But Brenda Leslie ended the game for Monette, 49-48, by sending in a looping 20-footer.

Earlier in the day, Monette had barely nosed out Ashdown 46-44 to advance into the quarterfinal. Des Arc had reached the quarterfinals via an easy 60-59 decision over Sloan Hendrix.

Drew Central got into the semi-final bracket with a 47-32 win over Waldron in the morning's first quarterfinal game.

In other quarterfinal games Thursday, Stephens downed McGeece 60-37, Manila took out Greenwood 64 to 35, Van Buren banished Searcy 40 to 39, and England needed one overtime period to take out DeWitt 63 to 55.

Hosts Win
In the Class B tournament at Greenbrier, the host team advanced to the semis with a 71-65 victory over Hartman in Thursday night's first game, and Mountain View banished Mississippi County 61 to 57 to go into the semifinals in the evening's finale.

In the windup of first round games, Mountain View took out Parkin 66 to 54, Marvell downed Calico Rock 53 to 38, Seranton needed one extra period to edge Corbin 54 to 52, Portland eliminated Waldoo 50 to 33, and Turrell advanced 47 to 44 over Bismarck.

The "Concourse of Sinners," where gypsies once exhibited the heads of traitors in Marrakesh, Morocco, now is a parking lot.

Lions on a prowl may eat 40 or 50 pounds of meat a day, and return to feasting, meanwhile remaining near the kill.

Mrs. Cudone met youthful Judy H. Wichiga.

The blonde Mrs. Porter eked out a 49-hole decision over Doris Phillips, Belleville, Ill., Thursday to survive the quarter finals played in 25 mile-an-hour winds. There were only three holes won and lost in the tense battle.

Mrs. Cudone advanced easily with a 6 and 5 win over Carol Reinbrink, Sunnybrook, N.Y. Miss Bell was carried to the final hole to beat Greta Leone, Chicago, 1-up, and Miss Burns won 2 and 1 over Mary Ann Reynolds, Albany, Ga.

Gadsby Gets Goals, Fontinote Publicity

By UNITED PRESS
Lou Fontinote gets the publicity and Bill Gadsby gets the goals. That's the 50-50 agreement between the New York Rangers stellar defenseman — or so it seems to National Hockey League opponents.

Big Lou was his usual pugnacious self Wednesday night but it was Gadsby who notched the all-important third goal as the Rangers whipped the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2, and went over the .500 mark for the first time since Jan. 2. They now lead the third-place Detroit Red Wings by three points with 14 games left to play.

"As far as I'm concerned, this is my best year," said the 30-year old Gadsby. "I'm getting more chances and I'm in better position to take advantage of them."

Ed Furgol Doesn't Know How to Quit

TODAY'S SPORT PAGE
(Reg. U.S. pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—The man who didn't know how to quit finally has.

Gaunt, dark-haired Ed Furgol, the battler with one good arm, for 13 years made a gallant run over the fairways of the world. And the man they called "Wingy" proved his class and his courage in 1954 by winning the U.S. Open golf tournament.

But at last the one good arm has gone bad, too.

So, nearing 41 and discouraged with his play, Ed has left the pro golf tour. He's looking for a club job and everybody in the game hopes he gets the good one he deserves.

Lost His Speed
"I'm like a pitcher who has lost his speed," Ed explains disconsolately. "In order to compensate for my left arm, I have to whip the club through fast. I've lost some of my speed, so my drives are 25 yards shorter than they used to be and I can't get under my irons the way I should."

A year ago, Furgol suffered a torn bicep muscle in his right arm. Then, to complicate matters, he developed calcium deposits in his right elbow.

It was the arm which always had done the work of two.

For when Ed was a 12 year old, he fell in the school playground at his native Utica, N.Y., and shattered the left elbow. Repeated operations failed to help and the arm became rigid and withered. Ed refused to sit on the sidelines. He played all the usual schoolboy sports — including football — and baseball, and as a caddy early learned a love of golf and a desire to play it with the best of them.

As an amateur, he went to Detroit and won medalist honors in the National Public Links championship and stayed there to work in an automobile factory.

Predicted Own Victory
As an amateur, he went to the 33 events he entered and then in 1940 decided to take a crack at the pro tour. It wasn't easy. Sitting in the clubhouse just before the 1954 Open started at Baltusrol, Ed was asked who he picked to win it. Modestly usually dictates the naming of Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or some such.

"I like my own chances," Ed said quietly. "After that, it's wide open."

That tournament is, at least, one golden memory he has to take with him.

Because a couple of days later he stood on the final tee needing a par-five to win, and balanced the weakened arm and flinching heart into victory. He hooked his drive into the woods, gambled by slicing the ball up an adjacent, and Kathy returned to Little Rock Monday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Woosley.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morris and children of Dallas have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Haynes.

Churchill Is Reportedly Improving

ROQUEBRUNE, France (UP)
—Sir Winston Churchill's doctors announced today that "there is a very definite improvement" in his condition. The 83-year-old British statesman has been battling an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy since last Tuesday.

A medical bulletin said: "There is a very definite improvement in Sir Winston Churchill's condition. There are signs that the pneumonia is resolving. After a good night he is more comfortable and his progress is so far satisfactory."

The bulletin was signed by Lord Moran and Dr. David M. Roberts, the two physicians who have been treating the doughty old warrior in his latest illness.

The wording of the bulletin—the third issued since Lord Moran flew here from London to take charge of the case—bore out the optimism expressed earlier in the day by Lady Churchill.

She said then that her husband is feeling "very well."

Earlier, sources close to Churchill's physician said he had passed a good night and was quite comfortable this morning. The sources said Lord Moran and

Woman Officeholder Not to Run Again

HOOT SPRINGS (UP)—Mrs. Mary Jess Lankford, the only woman to hold a major political post in Garland county, will not be a candidate for re-election as county treasurer.

She said Wednesday the high cost of campaigning, the insecurity of the office itself, and the lack of any type of retirement or pension plan for county officials, other than social security, are among the reasons she decided not to run again.

Mrs. Lankford is serving her fourth two-year term. She had opposition only once.

Julia is a Latin name for "soft-haired."

Dr. David Roberts, a local physician, were examining Churchill this morning.

Two Super Thrillers in State A Tourney

England and Monette Edge Des Arc, DeWitt

Seven games were played yesterday in first round and quarter final matches in the Class A State girls basketball tournament being held in Jones Field House.

Manila eliminated Stephens 22-53 and Van Buren ousted England 48-37 in Class A State girls tourney this morning. These two teams victories pair them against each other tonight at 9:20 in the semifinals. Drew Central will vie with Monette in the other semifinals match at 8 p. m.

Manila led by 15-14, 30-28 and 48-41 at the quarters and pulled away with 25 points in the final period to choke Stephens. Maxine Whitney hit 23. Beulah Peyton 23 and Charlene Chipman 17. Sally Shirley was high for Stephens with 27.

Favored England, holder of 28 straight wins this year, led 12-10 and 24-18 the first half. Van Buren's Donnel Enow, who only shot 6 points against Searcy, suddenly found the range and pumped in 25 points, to lead Coach Clair Bates Pointers to victory.

Marion Neal had 20 and Janecia Bowie 13 for England. Linda Yancey got 15 to bring her tournament total to 40 points for Van Buren.

Morning Games

Coach Helen Parker's Ashdown Panthers, the defending state champions, go down to a 46-44 defeat at the hands of a well balanced Monette team, a squad that proved to be the giant killers as they took Des Arc last night 49-48 in a double overtime.

Ashdown trailed 13-8 the first period and 26-24 at the half, but came back to even it up 33-33 at the third period, and with 2 minutes to play, led 42-40.

This lead was short lived as Monette's Lei Lana Blasingame sank a pair of free tosses. Brenda Leslie added two more and Pat Steele sewed it up with two more charity throws for a 46-42 lead. With 2 seconds remaining, Ashdown's Betty Lou McDowell hit a field goal to bring it up to 46-44 but it was too late.

Ashdown's All State forward for two years and a candidate this year, Glenda McDowell, registered 32 points to lead both teams in scoring on 12 field goals and 8 free ones. Betty Lou McDowell had 10 and Frances McGraw 2. The Pantherettes guards of Jane Davis, Annette Adkinson, Marguerite Stuart and Sue Larson held Monette to 12 field goals, but the difference came with Monette making 22 of 31 free throws.

THE STORY: Detective Wintling, who is eager to solve the murder of Ed Owens, has been shunted to less important activity. He has just picked up a man he caught while attempting to pilfer a car.

Chapter XI

I took him down to the desk and booked him, put him in a cell and phoned down to his precinct to check his address, notify his folks. Then I called SCI to find if there was a record on the guy and went back upstairs to the squad room. Reed asked, "Call downtown for a yellow sheet on this chappie."

I nodded. "He was telling the truth, no record."

Reed shook his head. "These cheap cases get me angry, doing it for a few lousy bucks. Nice work, Wintling."

"A big deal, I nudged a hard-up jerk on his first two-bit job." I said, thinking how we were all wasting time. I should be asking Wales about Sal Kahn.

Reed said, "You prevented a crime, that's supposed to be half our job. And there's no such animal as a 'small' crime. Suppose this punk had a knife on him and panicked when the car owner found him. It could easily have been a murder. What I like is your working by reflex, instinctively. That's being a good cop. Have lunch yet?"

"No, sir," I lied; it never hurts to build things up a little. "Speaking of instinct, I feel I should talk to Wales about—"

"Grab a sandwich, then finish the report on Owens and write up this case for Felt's files. I'll check with him on the Dundas fellow. Wales hadn't shown up for work today. Must be off drowning his sorrows. Doesn't matter. I checked with the institution. Dundas died there. What's with this Henderson nut?"

"She's a writer. She's being roughed-up and annoyed by phone calls to make her so jittery she won't be able to finish an article exposing some electrical companies hogging a new invention. I thought she was a crackpot till I talked to the janitor. Somebody has been trying to throw a scare into her."

"Has she any idea who's doing this?"

"No, but she thinks the men who jostled her must be private elvish hired by the electrical concerns. I told her we'd have the best cop and the radio ear keep an eye on her house for any suspicious characters. And she wants an escort when she goes out this afternoon."

Reed rubbed his big nose. "Es-cort? I got a busy house here. But you see she hasn't any set hours, goes to the library whenever she has to look up stuff. I figured if we tailed her once, we'd nail the jokers who've been roughing her up. She's waiting on a call from me as to what we plan to do."

Reed stared at his hand as if he expected to see part of his nose there. "All right, if she's a writer we don't want her knocking the best man looking in. Find out what time she'll leave her flat in the morning. I'll be able to give her a man then. It's 2:20 now. Take off after you finish your paper work. You'll have to take that car-punk to Night Court."

"My wife is going to love that. I'd forgotten about the Night Court."

"Cop's wife should expect him when she sees him," Reed said as he went into his office.

"When I got Rose Henderson on the phone she blew up. 'Tomorrow morning I'm waiting now to go out shopping, not to mention some research I need.'"

"I'm sorry but we can't spare a man now. I told you that might happen. I checked with your super. I believe your story."

"I suppose I won't be killed going to the corner grocery. But I will see you tomorrow about 10. A detective will be there by 10. He'll call you first," I said, wondering how I was going to tell Mary I might not make her bride game. I'd better call her uncle. That might cool her off."

I went out and dialed Uncle Frank. I took time for the girl who answered to find him — he was always jumping around his flat. Finally I heard him pant over the phone. "Dave?"

"Yeah. How's things, Uncle Frank?"

"Terrible, lad. Lousy truckman can't find a parking place so he takes off like a scared rabbit. Two hundred and thirty-one pieces of express freight, dress goods, miss the afternoon train. They won't get to Miami in time for Saturday's business and there'll be a kickback in my face. You downtown, Dave my boy?"

"No, Mary tells me you want to see me."

"Yes, yes. We have to have a talk. This place is getting too much for me. I'll be here till I'm maybe later. When will you be down?"

"I have to go to Night Court. But I'm off tomorrow and Friday. I'll drop in to see you then. Okay?"

"Fine. Always know where to find me. Tell Mary to drag you over. I'll support Anna and the kids keep asking for you."

"I was out at 2:30. As I was saying, Danny Hayes came and

Refuses to Serve Any Teenagers

HOT SPRINGS (UP)—A four-member panel was to meet today with the manager of a local drug store to discuss why he does not serve any teenagers at the soda fountain.

The manager, John Youngblood, blames shoplifting for his refusal. The store is one of the largest in the city.

The panel members are School Superintendent Dr. Imoh Bruce, Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis, Prosecuting Attorney Walter Roberts and Mrs. Iva Harris, juvenile probation officer for the county.

Mrs. Harris said teenagers ranging from 11 to 17 and including both boys and girls have been seen taking merchandise by store personnel.

New Quarrel Breaks Out in FCC Probe

By NEIL MACNEIL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—A sharp new quarrel broke out today between House investigators over whether to "slow down" or push their inquiry full speed ahead into possible misconduct and "influence" in government agencies.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight said the investigation will keep moving to "get all the facts." But Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) said Harris is going to decide if he is in "grave danger" of failing to make a complete investigation.

At the same time a Miami, Fla., couple flatly denied "an untrue" claim of witness A. Frank Katzentine that they were the source of a report that Gordon Moore, Mrs. Ma Moore, Eisenhower's brother-in-law, "engineered" the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) award of a Miami television channel to National Airlines.

Offer to Testify.
Mr. and Mrs. Dean Murphy said in Miami they had wired Harris, offering to refute Katzentine from the witness stand. They said "Katzentine's statement is not true, and we shall gladly so testify."

The investigators indicated Moore, who already has been invited to come forth, may be called for testimony about the hotly-disputed Miami Channel 10 case.

Katzentine, one of the unsuccessful applicants for the channel, was recalled by the subcommittee. He said Wednesday he heard of Moore's involvement from a "Mr. Barton" who he said had heard it from the Murphys. The Murphys, he said, were friends of National Airlines President George Baker.

Dispute Follows Firing.
The dispute between Harris and Moss flared up in the wake of last week's storm over the firing of subcommittee counsel Dr. Bernard Schwartz. The 74-custer vote caused the resignation of subcommittee chairman Morgan M. Mouldeer (D-Mo.) and two of Schwartz's top aides.

Moss promised to use "every parliamentary device" to slow down the investigation. He told the United Press the subcommittee should not be hurried into overlooking something by fear of criticism.

But Harris told the United Press he also had complimentary tactics to ride over any delaying maneuvers by Moss.

"In the present rush," Moss said, "we may well lose track of the cases. It's a grave error to continue without a chief counsel to direct the investigation."

Warns A-Weapons Here to Stay
CLINTON, Iowa (UP)—An official of the North American Air Defense Command Wednesday night warned that "atomic weapons are now almost the conventional weapons."

Col. Barney Oldfield, information service director at the command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., said atomic weapons were being readied because the nation cannot seek protection with "sea shooters" when it is walking among bullies with bladders.

Speaking before the Clinton Junior Chamber of Commerce, Oldfield said the border we would provide the makings of defeat, the less likely will be the possibility of an "exchange of atomic blows."

The Persians and the inhabitants of India once formed a single people called "Arya," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The locker room and said, "I think I'll sleep all day tomorrow. Remember that assault case, the two referees it comes up in court Monday. Never seen it to fall every time we're on the mat. I'll be in the morning."

"We're just lucky," I said, waving at him from the doorway.

Casinos Off Limits to Policemen

HOT SPRINGS (UP)—Gambling casinos are off limits to policemen of this resort from now on.

The Civil Service Commission issued an order Wednesday prohibiting any members of the police department from working in or entering such places on or off duty except when called to the casinos.

Commission Secretary A. G. Crawford said four officers presently employed while off duty in casinos have until Friday to quit the casino jobs or resign from the police force.

All the city's major gambling spots have to be opened after nearly a year of non-operation. The last major club to open was the Belvedere, which started operating again Feb. 15.

Run of the News Over United States

By UNITED PRESS

The Federal Reserve Board cut member bank reserve requirements 1/2 of 1 per cent in an anti-recession move that will free some 500 million dollars of reserves. The board said the step theoretically would mean an expansion of three billion dollars.

Commissioners said four officers presently employed while off duty in casinos have until Friday to quit the casino jobs or resign from the police force.

All the city's major gambling spots have to be opened after nearly a year of non-operation. The last major club to open was the Belvedere, which started operating again Feb. 15.

Numbering temperatures came to the rescue of the oil industry by draining nearly 10 million barrels from heating fuel stocks, according to the American Petroleum Institute. The API also said crude oil and heating fuel production were down slightly during the week while gasoline stocks rose seasonally.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced that Pacific Gas & Electric Co. plans to build by mid-1962 a 60,000 kilowatt atomic power reactor designed to produce electricity at a price competitive with conventionally fueled generators. Last October Pacific Gas started selling electricity from its 5,000 kilowatt output plant near Pleasanton, Calif.

Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., which traditionally sets the price pattern for iron ore, announced prices for 1958 will be the same as in 1957. Prices have risen every year since World War II with the exception of 1954.

Pressure on for Drop in Paper Prices

By GEORGE C. HARLAN
United Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Paper and pulp manufacturers are bracing to resist pressures for lower prices generated by excess capacity and the general business recession.

John R. Kimberly, first vice president of the American Paper and Pulp Assn., told the United Press that "looking at the cost-price situation in our industry, it is obvious to me that it is going to be very difficult to produce lower prices."

Kimberly, who is president of Kimberly-Clark Corp., Norwalk, Wis., added that in view of the continuing higher labor, materials and distribution costs. Over prices "do not appear in the cards."

The Wisconsin Paper Association actually ruled out cheaper prices in an interview at the 81st annual meeting of the association.

By tradition, Kimberly, as first president of the APPA, is in line for the presidency of the association.

He also said that the same cost factors currently besetting the industry apply to newsprint. "I know of no factors that would influence a change in the cost-price situation to weaken newsprint prices," he declared.

At the same time, he said he expects the demand for newsprint to decline somewhat in the months ahead.

Asked about the present excess capacity in the industry, Kimberly said, "This is nothing to be afraid of." He added that excess capacity was healthy since it provides the industry with a cushion against any sudden "surge" in demand for paper products.

Asked to give his view on the newsprint situation, Kimberly said he does not look for any reversal in the current business recession before the fourth quarter. He qualified this forecast by adding that "a lot will depend on what the government does."

As an antidote to the bills of his own industry he urged that companies make even greater efforts in the fields of merchandising and operating efficiency.

Asks Highway Funds to Fight Unemployment

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) called today for a prompt increase in federal highway funds to combat unemployment and to keep the construction of 41,000 miles of super highways on a 13-year schedule.

Gore told newsmen that "If we don't do something right now, the whole (interstate highway) program will be aborted."

He said a speed-up in the program would provide "a most beneficial stimulus to the nations sagging economy. Idle workers could be given employment almost immediately because planning has been completed and rights-of-way secured for many projects in the network of super-highways."

Gore asked state highway officials to give him the amount of additional highway construction they could start this summer if the federal government put up its 90 per cent share of the cost.

Governors Averell Harriman of New York and Dennis J. Roberts of Rhode Island are scheduled to testify Friday before Gores Senate Roads subcommittee. They are expected to support Gores demand for more federal money for highway construction.

Two other state governors and highway officials of four other states protested Wednesday against a stretchout in the 13 year program to 20 years or more.

Such a stretchout appears inevitable unless more federal money is provided starting with the fiscal year 1939 which begins July 1, 1939. Starting then, annual spending of $2,200,000,000 has been authorized for construction of the superhighways. But it is estimated there will be an annual shortage of 600 to 800 million dollars for at least two years in the special highway construction fund.

If the deficit is to be made up, Congress must appropriate more money, relax the present law to permit spending in anticipation of later revenues, or earmark all of the revenue of highway use taxes for the fund. About 70 per cent of

East Begins to Thaw a Bit

By UNITED PRESS

The East thawed slowly today from two weeks of record cold and snows, but a Pacific storm whipped the West and touched off serious flooding in southern California.

Although temperatures moderated by as much as 10 to 20 degrees in the eastern two-thirds of the nation, the crippling effects of the marathon sub-zero cold wave lingered.

The death count in weather-caused accidents neared 500. Indiana Gov. Sam H. Handley, Wednesday night declared snow-buried sections of northwestern Indiana a "disaster area," and called for civil defense teams to rescue marooned farm families.

Handley asked for helicopter to supply stranded families with food and medicine.

The gigantic Krupp steel and munitions industry in Germany began as a small iron forge in 1848.

highway use taxes now go into the fund.

Gore indicated he favored putting it all in the fund.
